A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Sevin Yeltekin, M.A., Ph.D.
Dean

Congratulations to the George Washington University School of Business Class of 2026. It is especially meaningful for me to celebrate this milestone with you during my first year as dean of GW Business. From the moment I arrived in Washington, D.C., I have been struck by the energy, creativity and resilience of this community, and I could not imagine a better class to share this moment with.

Today, as you earn your undergraduate degree, you mark an important milestone made possible by your hard work and determination. On behalf of the entire GW Business community, I am proud of all that you have accomplished.

We are proud to recognize the inaugural graduating cohort of the ACE Triple Degree Program. In partnership with Renmin University of China in Beijing and Luiss University in Rome, students completed a rigorous course of study across Washington, D.C., Beijing and Rome. We are honored to celebrate this milestone with our colleagues from Renmin University and Luiss University joining us today.

The George Washington University is renowned and respected across our nation's capital, our region and the globe. With this achievement, you join a network of more than 60,000 GW Business alumni around the world, a community that will continue to support and inspire you throughout your career.

Your time at GW Business has prepared you for a world defined by change. The adaptability, curiosity and judgment you have developed here will serve you well as industries evolve and new opportunities emerge. I encourage you to stay open to new paths, to continue learning and to approach challenges with both confidence and creativity.

Your relationships here will remain an important part of your journey, and your alumni status is lifelong.

It has been an honor to be part of this chapter in your lives. I look forward to seeing what you build next.

Congratulations once again.
Warm regards,

President and Chief Executive Officer, Tanger

Stephen Yalof is President and Chief Executive Officer of Tanger Inc., an owner and operator of premier open-air shopping destinations across the United States and Canada. Since taking the helm in 2020, he has led a significant transformation of the business, expanding its footprint, evolving beyond traditional outlet centers into a more diversified platform that includes full-price and lifestyle environments and strengthening its position as a partner to both leading and emerging brands.

With a team dedicated to creating destinations that entertain, inspire and bring communities together, the company is leading the evolution of shopping. Under his leadership, Tanger has received numerous accolades including being recognized by Newsweek as one of America's Greatest Workplaces for Culture, Belonging and Community in January 2026.

Yalof has spent his career in retail and real estate working for iconic brands including Ralph Lauren and Gap. Prior to joining Tanger, he served as Chief Executive Officer of Simon Premium Outlets, driving forward the expansion and development of their real estate portfolio.

Yalof is a frequent guest on CNBC and Bloomberg, offering perspective on consumer trends and the evolving retail landscape. He serves as a Trustee of the International Council of Shopping Centers and sits on the advisory board of the Center for Real Estate Studies at George Washington University, where he earned his bachelor's in business administration.

Darshan Dullabh

B.S., Business Analytics & International Affairs '26

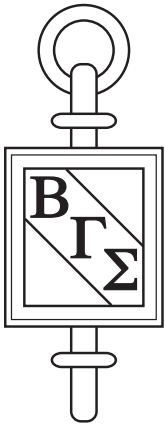

Growing up in Johannesburg, South Africa, before moving to California at the age of 7, Darshan Dullabh was shaped by the philosophy of Ubuntu: “I am because we are.” This belief, that individual success is inseparable from community, has guided his leadership during his time at GW.

Over the past four years, he has immersed himself in organizations that elevate both standards and people. He served as president of the Undergraduate Consulting Group, vice president of operations for the Multicultural Business Students Association and director of resource management and personal finance for Alpha Kappa Psi. As a Student Mentor in the Business Leader Development Program, he has guided students, helping them build confidence, clarity and community.

Beyond campus leadership, Dullabh has represented GW on a national stage. He earned second place overall at Georgetown’s McDonough Business Strategy Challenge, the highest finish in GW history, after months of disciplined preparation and executive-level strategy development. He has also connected with prospective students across the country, encouraging them to embrace both ambition and responsibility as they embark on their journey to “Raise High.”

Professionally, Dullabh has worked across corporate strategy, private equity and venture-backed startups, applying data-driven analysis to high-impact business decisions. His focus remains consistent: build strong foundations, collaborate with intent and leave communities more resilient than he found them.
