A MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

Sevin Yeltekin, M.A., Ph.D.
Dean

Congratulations to the George Washington University School of Business Class of 2026. It is especially meaningful for me to celebrate this milestone with you during my first year as dean of GW Business. From the moment I arrived in Washington, D.C., I have been struck by the energy, creativity and resilience of this community, and I could not imagine a better class to share this moment with.

Whether you earned a graduate degree or a doctorate, you have reached an important milestone through hard work and determination. On behalf of the entire GW Business community, I am proud of all that you have accomplished.

The George Washington University is renowned and respected across our nation's capital, our region and the globe. With this achievement, you join a network of more than 60,000 GW Business alumni around the world, a community that will continue to support and inspire you throughout your career.

Your time at GW Business has prepared you for a world defined by change. The adaptability, curiosity and judgment you have developed here will serve you well as industries evolve and new opportunities emerge. I encourage you to stay open to new paths, to continue learning and to approach challenges with both confidence and creativity.

Your relationships here will remain an important part of your journey, and your alumni status is lifelong. I also hope you will share your experiences and insights with those who follow in your footsteps.

It has been an honor to be part of this chapter in your lives. I look forward to seeing what you build next.

Congratulations once again.

President,

Akin's civic activities include service on boards such as the Greater Washington Urban League, the Greater Washington Board of Trade, Destination DC, NextDC, HOBY, the International Town & Gown Association, Ben's Chili Bowl Foundation and LearnServe International.

Ivo Giulietti Vega
M.S. Finance '26

Ivo Giulietti is a Salvadoran-Italian finance professional and graduate of the Master of Science in Finance program at GW Business. Currently based in Washington, D.C., Giulietti works at the intersection of finance and development. His expertise lies in structured finance, significant risk transfers and risk management, with a growing focus on the use of AI for financial products and services.

His approach combines analytical depth with leadership and execution, integrating strong technical skills with the resilience, adaptability and teamwork shaped through years as a high-performance goalkeeper competing across Italy and El Salvador. This blend of quantitative rigor and human awareness extends beyond the office: As a TEDx speaker, he has explored how data science is as much about understanding people as it is about numbers.

Driven by a commitment to impact, Giulietti founded El Salvador's first national Model United Nations (MUNs) and built a social venture that provides scholarships and training for underserved communities to participate in MUNs. This work earned him a Resolution Fellowship from The Resolution Project, recognizing socially responsible leaders worldwide.

Before coming to D.C., Giulietti gained experience in corporate finance within the construction industry, building actuarial models for pension systems and working on the investment desk of the largest pension fund in El Salvador. He later co-founded a data science and analytics consulting firm serving financial institutions across North and South America.
